

MULTIPLE CHOICE

Directions: CIRCLE the best possible answer to each question.

1. Where do federal student loans come from?

- a. These loans are government-issued
- b. These loans can come from banks, credit unions, schools and other private institutions
- c. These loans come from public-private partnerships
- d. All of the above

2. Where do private student loans come from?

- a. These loans come from public-private partnerships
- b. These loans can come from banks, credit unions, schools and other private institutions
- c. These loans are government-funded
- d. All of the above

3. Which of these statements about federal student loans is false?

- a. The interest rate for federal student loans is set by Congress
- b. Federal student loans have a fixed rate that is often lower than private loan rates
- c. Certain federal student loans are government-subsidized
- d. There is a range of federal student loans and they all have their own eligibility requirements
- e. None of the above